A DAPPER LITTLE WARRIOR.

Brave but Dumpy Old Lord Saltoun, the Hero of Hougomont.

In those long gone by days brave old Lord Saltoun, the hero of Hougomont, resided during the fishing season in the mansion house of Auchinroath, on the high ground at the mouth of the Glen of Rothes. One morning, some five and forty years ago, my father drove to breakfast with the old lord, and took me with him. Not caring to send the horses to the stable, he left me outside in the dogcart when he entered the house. As I waited, rather sulkily—for I was very hungry—there came out on to the doorsteps a very queer looking old person, short of figure, round as a ball, his head sunk between very high and rounded shoulders, and with short, stumpy legs. He was curiously attired in a whole colored suit of gray, a droll shaped jacket, the great collar of which reached far up the back of his head, surmounted by a pair of voluminous breeches, which suddenly tightened at the knee. I imagined him to be the butler in morning dishabille, and when he accosted me good naturedly, asking to whom the dogcart and myself belonged, I answered him somewhat shortly, and then ingenuously suggested that he would be doing me a kindly act if he would go and fetch me out a hunk of bread and meat, for I was enduring tortures of hunger.

Then he swore, and that with vigor and fluency, that it was a shame that I should have been left outside, called a groom and bade me alight and come in doors with him. I demurred—I had got the paternal injunction to remain with the horse and cart. "I am master here!" exclaimed the old person impetuously, and with further strong language he expressed his intention of rating my father roundly for not having brought me inside along with himself. Then a question occurred to me, and I ventured to ask, "Are you Lord Saltoun?" "Of course I am," replied the old gentleman. "Who the devil else should I be?" Well, I did not like to avow what I felt, but in truth I was hugely disappointed in him, for I had just been reading Siborne's "Waterloo," and to think that this dumpy old fellow in the duffel jacket that came up over his ears was the valiant hero who had held Hougomont through cannon fire and musketry fire, and hand to hand bayonet fighting on the day of Waterloo, while the post he was defending was ablaze, and who had actually killed Frenchmen with his own good sword, was a severe disenchantment.—Nineteenth Century.

How Kelly Saved the Danseuse.

Accidents have happened on the stage. The skirts of ballet dancers have caught fire, and the unhappy danseuses have died from the effects. The story will not soon be forgotten of Michael Kelly in "Lodioska." The last scene represented a castle on fire, and the beautiful Mrs. Crouch, as the Princess, was to be seen at a window. The draft carried the flames toward her, and Kelly, seeing her danger, rushed up a stage bridge to save her, but the supports of this bridge had been removed prematurely by the carpenter, and Kelly fell to the ground.

"At the same time," says Kelly in his "Memoirs," "the fiery tower, in which was Mrs. Crouch, sank down in a blaze, with a violent crash. She uttered a scream of terror. Providentially I was not hurt by the fall, and catching her in my arms, scarcely knowing what I was doing, I carried her to the front of the stage. The applause was loud and continued. In fact, had we rehearsed the scene as it happened, it could not have been done half so naturally or produced so great an effect."

It was not the escape which made this incident memorable, but Kelly's bull. He was furious at the accident and rushed at Kemble, who was manager, shouting, "I might have been killed entirely, and who then—who would have maintained me for the rest of my life?"—Good Words.

Magnificence of Lowther Castle.

Lowther castle, near Penrith, is one of the most imposing mansions in the north. Its great terrace is nearly a mile in length and is carried along the brink of a steep cliff, which overlooks a part of the park, with forest trees of immense growth and well replenished with deer. The park of the emperor of China, at Gehol, is called "the paradise of 10,000 trees." Lord Macartney, embassador to China, in one of his letters says: "We wandered in it for several hours, and yet were never weary of wandering, for certainly so rich, so varied, so beautiful, so sublime a prospect our eyes had never beheld." And thus concludes his description of the wonderful garden: "If any place can be said in any respect to have similar features to the western park of Van Shoo Yeen, it is at Lowther."—London News.

The Sense of Color.

According to Professor Hugo Magnus of Breslau, the visual capacity of sense of color varies not only with the individual, but with the civilization of a people. At first the human retina is insensible to colors, and only a gray, more or less clear, is visible. Later on red and yellow are seen, these corresponding to light of the greatest wave length. Thus neither the ancient hymns of the Vedas, nor the Zend-Avesta, nor the Old Testament speak of the blue sky. Homer (as Mr. Gladstone remarks) and Ezekiel do not appear to have been sensible of all the tints of the rainbow. Zenophanes describes them as purple, red and greenish yellow. Aristotle adds the blue. In Hebrew and Assyrian the colors yellow and green and in Arabic blue and black are often confounded.

A Beaconsfield Anecdote.

One day, when the late Lord Beaconsfield was walking in his grounds at Hughenden Manor, he was accosted by a well known parishioner noted for his ready wit. It being winter time and the weather unusully severe, the villager after paying his respects to his lordship commenced to make an appeal for a little help.

"How often have I told you to be careful and prepare for a rainy day?"

"Ah, that's right enough. So I did, my lord," said the ready witted villager, "but then who ever thought of seeing all this snow and hard frost?"

This ready retort had the desired effect.—Household Words.

M. CAHILL, No. 10 First St.

—An additional sheet to the Rock Falls News is a sign of prosperity that beats "moving" two to one. Glad to see the Cap moving to the front.

—They are young men and claim to be agents of the Illinois Humane Society and they have beat people in the towns where they stop out of several thousand dollars by having bogus checks cashed.

—We would call our free trade neighbors, far and near, to the fact that they can confidently look for more tin plate mills and, indeed the starting up of other industries that grow out of confindence in public affairs.

—Mrs. Harriet E., wife of Samuel Stanton, of Franklin Grove, died at her home on Tuesday, November 5, aged 60 years, 6 months and 26 days. She has been a resident of Lee county since 1868, and leaves a husband and six children.

—What's the matter with the arc light at the intersection of Seventh street and Galena avenue? For the last three or four nights its blinkers have been in mourning, and the avenue (one of the most frequently traveled in the city) almost its entire length has been shrouded in darkness.

—An exchange has the following cure for dunkenness: Let any victim of the liquor habit eat tomatoes sprinkled with salt, consuming as much each day as possible. Let the eating of tomatoes and salt to excess be continued for several days, and the tomato eater will find liquor offensive and undrinkable, and if drank, ungrateful to the stomach; so much so that it will be thrown up. The exchange claims that this is the cheapest cure yet heard of and claims that it is effective.

Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium.

The Young Men's Christian Association have engaged Mr. Charles A. Burgress, of Topeka, Kansas, as Gymnasium Instructor and Assistant Secretary for five months, beginning Nov. 15th.

Mr. Burgess was a student in the N. I. N. S. not quite two years since and is well known to a number of Dixon people. Two gymnasium classes will be organized soon after his arrival and others will be added as needed.

The apparatus will include dumb bells, Indian clubs, bar bells, vaulting horse, parallel bars, combined horizontal and vaulting bar, chest weights, medicine ball, basket ball, jumping standards, vaulting pole, wall parallels and mattresses. More apparatus will be added later as funds are obtained. A hand ball court will be marked off at one end of the room. One or more basket ball teams will probably be organized at an early date and match games with neighboring associations will probably be arranged.

A portion of the apparatus is already here, and the balance is expected from Akron, Ohio, next week, and upon its arrival and placement the gymnasium will be at once opened to members. Every arrangement will be made to conduct the class exercises with a view to the best and most harmonious physical development of the members.

This addition to the department work of the Y. M. C. A. should largely increase its membership among the young men of our city.

PRIMARY WANTED

To Tell Which Is the Nebraska Democracy.

SILVER MEN MAKE THE PROPOSAL.

Question of Representation in the National Convention Involved—Anti-Free Silver Men Point to the Election Returns and Stand Pat—Banquet to Depew at Buffalo—The Doctor's Remarks in Brief—Brice's Comment on Gorman—Iowa Returns.

OMAHA, Nov. 9.—Much interest has been created among Nebraska Democrats as a result of election returns showing the relative vote of the two wings. Mahoney, administration candidate for supreme court, received 14,500, and Phelps, silver man, 8,000. Both men went on the ticket under the supreme court ruling as Democrats, and the silver men claim that this was unfair to their interests and that it was not a proper test. The silver men now suggest that the silver question be submitted to a primary election in Nebraska, the regular Democratic committee and the bolting Democratic committee to agree upon primaries to be held at the same time and at the same places.

National Delegation Involved.

Each voter is to be called upon to express himself on the money question, and the state convention to instruct its delegates accordingly. If a majority of the Democrats of Nebraska are in favor of the 16-to-1 plank in the next national convention, then the silver men are to be entitled to the delegation; if the majority of the Democrats of Nebraska are in favor of the present financial policy, then these Democrats to have the right to represent the state in the national convention. This matter, they say, can only be determined by a primary election, and the silver Democrats say they are not afraid of such an expression from the voters. They assert that if the gold men refuse to submit the question to a primary election they will be estopped from claiming to represent a majority of the Democratic voters.

Anti-Silver Men Stand Pat.

The silver men say that in Richardson county, where the matter was discussed and brought before the people, Phelps had a considerable majority over Mahoney. The same, they say, is true of Pawnee county, where the voters were apprised of the situation. The opponents of the white metal have little to say on the subject, asserting that the election results indicate clearly that the silver Democrats are outnumbered two to one in Nebraska, and they think they have nothing to fear in future contests.

SURE THIS ISN'T A BOOM?

Buffalo Citizens Meet Together to Do Honor to Doctor Depew.

BUFFALO, Nov. 9.—Never has this city seen a more representative body of citizens than assembled last night in the Buffalo club to do honor to Hon. Chauncey M. Depew. The dinner was tendered to Depew not alone because of his prominence in affairs of commerce, but quite as much for the special interest he has always manifested in the welfare of this city. Hon. Edgar B. Jewett, mayor of Buffalo, presided and welcomed the guest of honor in a speech which elaborated the sentiments that had inspired the banquet. John N. Scatchert, president of the Bank of Buffalo, was toastmaster. Letters of regret were received from H. St. Clair McKelway, of the Brooklyn Eagle; Colonel William M. Singerly, of the Philadelphia Record, and others. The chief speech of the evening was that of Depew.

He said in part: "Thirty-three years ago as a young law student I came up to deliver my first political speech at Buffalo. The question of the hour was slavery and secession—the one the highest moral issue a people ever had to deal with; the other the life or death of the republic. I have a lively recollection of that speech, my first in a city and to a great audience. I remember lying awake all night wondering whether the United States district attorney would summon me before the grand jury to justify the charges I had made against President Buchanan and his cabinet of conspiring for the overthrow of the government in the interest of slavery."

The speaker traced the growth of Buffalo and praised its enterprise, and eulogized the wealth, power, and beneficence of the United States government, the strength of which had been tested by "the Debs revolution with governors of states and mayors of cities in sympathy," but which "was dissipated almost as quickly as it had originated with the minimum of loss on either life or property. So the Populist frenzy may involve half a dozen commonwealths, or a wild, passionate, unreasoning demand for debased currency may find almost unanimous expression in a large section of the republic, and yet the sober sense and calm judgment of the rest by mere inertia wears out or crushes out the dangerous excitement."

He paid warm tributes to two citizens of Buffalo who he said, each in his time, did right; the one (Elbridge C. Spaulding), in opposing limitless inflation of the currency, and the other, Grover Cleveland, in protecting the honest dollar. He said in conclusion: "I want to express to you my profound appreciation of this unique and distinguished honor. You might have waited until I was dead and passed a resolution to be engraved on my tombstone, but it is sweeter far to enjoy taffy while living than to be decorated with epitaphs when dead."

ELECTION TROUBLE IN DENVER.

Returns Locked Up and Both Parties on Guard Over the Same.

DENVER, Nov. 9.—The fact that the Republican candidate for a county office, L. E. Bert, on election day conceded the election of G. J. Kindel, his opponent (Taxpayers ticket), and next day claimed the election himself, caused visions of skullduggery in the minds of many, and Kindel, taking the advice of Myron Reed, got his shotgun and went hunting for Bert. He did not find him, but the mobocratic spirit appeared and for a time it looked like war. The officials cleared the court house and the returns are now locked in the county clerk's office, while representatives of both the Republican and Taxpayers tickets keep constant guard to see that they are not tampered with.

Bert declines to allow any one to see the figures, but says he has a plurality on the face of the returns of 102. Friends of his opponent, G. J. Kindel, say they believe the returns are fraudulent, and that a legal contest will be filed as soon as the official canvass is made, which will be some time next week. The law provides that the canvass shall be made by the clerk and two justices of the peace, but it is rumored that an effort will be made to have the work done by the judges of the district court.

Gorman Not a "Dead Duck" Yet.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 9. — Senator Brice passed through this city yesterday and was asked about the elections. He said the result was caused by general dissatisfaction somehow. He was asked: "How about Gorman?" Brice arched his eyebrows. "Gorman's all right. Your man Quay was beaten worse than Gorman was last Tuesday, and he seems to be doing pretty well. No, Senator Gorman is not annihilated, and the man who thinks so is very badly mistaken."

Comparative Vote in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Nov. 9.—The following is the vote cast in the last election, compared with the election two years ago: 1895 — Drake, 208,811; Babb, 147,410; Crane, 28,611; Bacon, 9,684; total, 394,516. In 1893—Jackson, 206,821; Boies, 174,666; Joseph, 23,980; Mitchell, 10,349; total, 415,810. Plurality, 1895, 61,401; majority, 23,106. General Drake ran about 4,000 votes behind the rest of the ticket.

Complete Returns from Pennsylvania.

PHILADELLHIA, Nov. 9.—Complete returns from every county in the state show that a total vote of 738,660 was cast on Tuesday for state treasurer, Heywood having a plurality of 184,102. In 1893, for the same office, there were 749,350, Jackson (Rep.) having a plurality of 135,146. Last year the total number of votes cast was 908,205 and Governor Hastings' plurality 241,297.

INFATUATION OF R. M. READE.

A Recent French Divorce Calls to the Front a Notorious Woman.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The official announcement in a Paris paper of the divorce of Robert Livingston Reade and Helene Josephine Mansfield brings to the front once more a woman notorious in two continents. Reade first met Josie Mansfield at Carlsbad in the summer of 1891. He was there with his mother, Mrs. Robert Reade, who was visiting her cousin, Mrs. Levi P. Morton. Josie Mansfield called herself Mrs. Frank Lawler, the name of her first husband, and despite her age was a belle in the famous watering place, and constantly surrounded by host of admirers.

Reade fell a victim to the charms which had captivated James Fisk, Jr., and besought Mrs. Lawler to marry him, but she was not so easily won. She told Reade to go home and sleep on his proposal, and then take time to consider it carefully. She was sure, she said, that these precautions must cure him. Reade did consider the matter, and even returned to New York city in an effort to conquer his love for Mrs. Lawler. It was all in vain, and upon his return to Europe he gave a dinner to his intimate associates.

When coffee was reached, and all hands were feeling pretty good, Mr. Reade said: "I am going to marry Josie Mansfield, I'm drinking myself to death, as you all know, and Josie Mansfield is the only person that can save me. I'll marry her if she'll let me, for I think she's more sinned against than sinning." The official announcement of the divorce constitutes the last chapter of the affair.

POSTMASTERS TO GO ON THE LIST.

New Civil Service Rule That Will Affect Many Postal Positions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A new rule of civil service has been approved by the president. It reads: "And whenever, by order of the postmaster general any postoffice shall be consolidated with and made a part of another postoffice where free delivery is established, all the employes of the office thus consolidated whose names appear on the roll of said office approved by the postoffice department and including the postmaster thereof, shall from the date of said order be employes of said free delivery office, and the person holding on the date of said order the position of postmaster at the office thus consolidated with said free delivery office may be assigned to any position therein and given any appropriate designation under the classification act which the postmaster general may direct."

It is the intention of the postoffice department to consolidate many offices throughout the country. This consolidation will not necessarily do away with the offices, but will establish them as stations of some central point. The order does not mean, however, that when any office is consolidated with another it will be served as a free delivery office or station. It will receive and distribute its mail as at present. The postmaster may become a clerk or chief of the station, or he may be discharged and some other person appointed, but as soon as he becomes a clerk in the station he is included in the classified service and protected by it.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Nearly all the prominent actors and theatrical managers in new York were included in the company of 300 which assembled at the Garden theatre to present to Joe Jefferson a massive silver loving cup, the gift of more than 1,000 members of the dramatic profession. Speeches were made by Daniel Frohman, John Drew, Frank Mayo and Jefferson, and the occasion was a most pleasant one in every respect.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 9.—Abner Monday, of this place, who is superintending his father's work on the Sevierville court house, has been notified by whitecaps that he must work like other laborers or leave. He is also ordered to "quit wearing tan shoes." He has concluded to obey.

SANDWICH, Ills., Nov. 9.—Ex-Governor Beveridge has had no set-back now for several days. On account of his extreme weakness his strength comes slowly, but he is certainly gaining.

SYSTEM AT FAULT.

Some Reflections on the Situation in Turkey.

NO CHANGE FOR THE BETTER NOTED

New Cabinet Not Looked Upon with Favor by the Powers—Case Not One of Men, but of Systems—Whole Government Needs Revolutionizing Before Any Improvement Can Be Expected—In Fact the Sublime Porte Must be Annihilated.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 9.—There is no change for the better in the political situation here unless it rests on the fact that the Ottoman bank has advanced the Turkish government the sum of $1,500,000, which will enable the new minister of finance, Sabri Pasha, to provide for the most pressing needs of the government. The latter, it would seem, consists in fitting out the army reserves just called out in the porte's attempt to make some show of trying to restore order in Armenia. But there are so many other demands upon the Turkish treasury at the present moment that the money just advanced will not go a long way, even if it was put to legitimate uses, which is not likely to be the case.

Important Developments Expected.

In the best informed circles here the situation is regarded as decidedly critical, and important developments are expected within a short time. The ambassadors of the powers do not regard the new Turkish ministry with favor; it is not expected to last long, and it is not thought that it will be able to do anything worth mentioning towards clearing the political atmosphere. The rumors of palace conspiracies which have been in circulation for months past continue to be bruited about. The name of the deposed sultan, Mohammed Murad, removed from the throne because he was alleged to be suffering from idiocy, is once more mentioned as being a likely candidate for the throne.

It's the System That's at Fault.

There are many people who believe the deposed sultan is quite as sane as the present ruler of the Ottoman empire, Abdul Medjid. Then, of course, the name of the heir apparent, Mohammed Reshed, is heard mentioned as likely to shortly succeed his uncle, the present sultan; but that report has been in circulation for months past. The difficulty does not rest in individuals; one sultan is about as bad or good as another. It is the system of government in the Turkish empire which is to blame for all the trouble, and until there is a decided change in this direction there will be no improvement in the condition of the Armenians or of the Turks.

Only a Case of Exile.

The appointment of the ex-grand Vizier, Kiamil Pasha, decidedly a well-meaning man, as vali of Aleppo, is regarded here as being only another way of sending him into exile. He may not be actually exiled, but he will not be allowed to return from Aleppo until it suits the porte. He is charged with many things, but the sum and substance of it seems to be that he has been made a scapegoat for the sins and lack of mercy of others. The sultan had to do do something, so he changed his grand vizier and turned over his cabinet. He may have gained some time by so doing, but that seems to be about all.

Thousands of Armenians Butchered.

In addition to the exile of Kiamil Pasha to Aleppo it is reported that a number of high personages have been exiled to Anatolia, but it is difficult to get at the truth in such matters, as people reported "exiled" sometimes find their way to the bottom of the Bosphorous. Further private reports received here from Diarbekir estimate the number of Armenian victims of the recent massacres at 5,000. It is believed that this number is in excess of the actual total of those killed, but there seems to be no doubt that the victims are numbered by the thousands.

WEATHER CHECKS THE DEMAND.

Too Mild This Week for Seasonable Trade—Outlook Promising, However.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Bradstreet's says: The interruption to general trade throughout the country incident to election has been emphasized by unusually mild weather, which checks demand for clothing, heavyweight textiles, and other seasonable goods. Except for iron, steel, and cotton, the larger portion of advances in prices of commodities reported since March last has disappeared. Earlier anticipations of continued advances in prices and demand this year, the outgrowth of the activity of two and three months ago, have met with disappointment.

But there is little reason for the reaction in sentiment by many who discuss business conditions. Every wave of increased demand since the tide began to rise in March has resulted in net gain. The sentiment of traders generally is that the outlook promises an active spring trade, and that the holiday season will prove satisfactory. Business failures throughout the United States this week aggregate 260, against 290 last week. In the week a year ago there were 241, and two years ago 333. There are 39 business failures reported from the Canadian Dominion, against 43 last week, and 40 in the week last year.

Has Forgotten All His Lines.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—One of the foremost players has suffered a peculiar effect from his recent severe illness. Richard Mansfield, who is still at Lakewood, N. J., recuperating from his severe attack of typhoid fever, is now virtually well again. He has just made a startling discovery, however. It is that he has forgotten the lines of all the plays in his repertory. In every other respect Mr. Mansfield feels remarkably alert mentally, but it is a peculiar result of his recent illness that his leading roles have passed completely out of his memory.

Poison in a Social Lunch.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Nov. 9.—A dozen or more society ladies are severely ill as the result of something contained in a luncheon served at a reception given by Mrs. Frank Vanderzee and Mrs. C. O. Gage. The condition of none, however, is critical.

Chicago Goes to Visit Atlanta.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Fifty car-loads of Chicagoans left last night on their way to Atlanta. There were over 1,200 Chicagoans in the excursion, including a large number of the First regiment I. N. G. They go to visit the exposition.

Farmer and His Wife Killed.

JANESVILLE, Wis., Nov. 9.—Edward Lay, a prosperous farmer, and his wife were instantly killed when their runaway team ran into a trolley car last night. They leave a family of seven children.

NO STRIKE ON HILL'S ROAD.

Debs Says That None Has Been Declared—Trouble Only Local.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 9.—According to Eugene V. Debs, president of the American Railway Union, who is now confined in the Woodstock, Ills., jail, no strike has been declared on the Great Northern system, and none is likely to be declared. This statement is contained in a personal letter from Debs, written in Woodstock jail Thursday night, and received by a prominent member of the order in this city. The letter is in reply to an inquiry regarding the status of matters on the Great Northern. Debs writes that the Milwaukee members may feel no concern as to the trouble on the Great Northern system.

"Brother Kelliher," he writes, "advises me that no strike has been declared and that none is likely to be declared. There has been local trouble at three or four points, but nothing of a general character in which the A. R. U. is involved. There could be no strike unless authorized by the men themselves, and this has not been done."

MRS. GOUGAR'S LIBEL SUIT.

Representative Morse Tells Where He Got His Information About the Lady.

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—The presentation of evidence in the Gougar-Morse libel case on trial in the United States circuit court has been concluded. Congressman Morse, the defendant, was the principal witness. He testified that he knew Mrs. Gougar as a person of much ability and command of language, but understood that she had the reputation of being personal, vindictive and abusive in public speech.

He also testified that both Senator McPherson, of New Jersey, and Elijah Halford, President Harrison's private secretary, had informed him that Mrs. Gougar had received money from both political parties for her services as a campaign speaker. He said he had also received similar information from various members of congress. Morse emphatically denied that he had any malice when he wrote the letter which contains the alleged libel, "A soldier of fortune," applied to the plaintiff.

THIRTY-SEVEN DEAD THE TOTAL.

Last Body Recovered from the Detroit Ruins—Engineer Thompson Arrested.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 9.—The dead body of James B. Thomas, a machinist, has been taken from the ruins of the Journal building. This is the thirty-seventh body recovered, and according to the list of missing was the last body left in the wreck. Thomas M. Thompson, engineer of the building, was arrested yesterday afternoon, and is at Grace hospital under custody.

Daughters of the Confederacy.

ATLANTA, Nov. 9.—The band of women known as the "Daughters of the Revolution" is to have a rival in the "Daughters of the Confederacy," the first national gathering of the latter organization being in progress in this city. The new society was organized a few months ago at Nashville. It is expected that before many months thousands of women in the south will be enrolled and form a mighty army far outnumbering the membership of the Daughters of the Revolution. The primary object of the society is the erection of monuments and the dedication of memorial tablets to the heroes of the Confederacy.

Miners Defeated in Arbitration.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 9.—Judge Little, of Xenia, who was chosen to arbitrate the basis of wages for mining in Ohio, has found in favor of the operators. The mining scale in Ohio is determined by the prevailing rate in western Pennsylvania. The miners claimed that 69 cents was the prevailing rate and the operators that it was 64 cents. It was shown that seven-ninths of the coal produced in western Pennsylvania was mined at 64 cents, and Judge Little held that to be the prevailing rate. Only the operators having their own stores pay 69 cents in western Pennsylvania.

Suicide of a Michigan Man.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—W. H. Collier, a well-dressed man apparently of some means, who came here recently from San Francisco, shot and killed himself in a state-room on the steamer Norfolk. The suicido's connections are believed to reside in Michigan, as there was evidence that he had, on several occasions, sent money Mrs. Hattie Collier, of Fife Lake, in that state.

Important Missionary Meeting.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—One of the most important foreign missionary movements ever inaugurated in this country will begin in this city tomorrow in behalf of the foreign missions of the Presbyterian church. The presiding officer will probably be ex-President Benjamin Harrison, and the speakers will include John W. Foster, ex-secretary of state.

Creditors Get 100 Per Cent.

OMAHA, Nov. 9.—The $100,000 dry goods stock of the Falconer Dry Goods company, which closed its doors last week, has been purchased by Kilpatrick, Koch & Co., wholesalers. They will conduct the store permanently as a retail house. The stock brought $80,000, and all creditors are paid dollar for dollar.

None but Democrats on Guard.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 9.—In the constitutional convention last night Tillman made a great effort to have reincorporated in the suffrage article the clause stricken out providing for bi-partisan election boards, but the convention, by a vote of 75 to 51, refused to divide control of the election machinery.

Altgeld Proclaims Thanksgiving.

TO BE A MODEL.

She Wanted to Leave Housekeeping and Pose For Pictures.

Not very long ago, while a prominent artist was busy at his easel, the brass knocker rapped three times, and rising he opened the door. "Who is it?" he said, not very pleased at the interruption. "Do you want a model?" was the response.

He looked at her with the rapid glance of the man who knows the meaning of form and color and the value of every feature. Apparently there was nothing to recommend her. The face was not beautiful, the skin and features were coarse, there was no pomegranate on the lips, no rose petal on cheek nor shell tints in the ear. The hair was a dusty, yellow gray, the eyes dull and heavy, the mouth and jaw thick and hard. All of this detail he saw as she passed through the door uninvited.

"What are your recommendations?" he asked her half sneeringly.

"I have a good figure," she answered promptly.

"Are you a professional model?" was the next query.

"I have never posed at all," she replied. "I'm a housemaid. I read something in the paper about the lots of money the models made, and I thought I'd like it better than being out at service."

The artist looked at the young Irish woman a moment, and glancing about the room, wondering what to say to her, his eyes fell upon his half clad model seated upon the stand. "Miss B.," he said, "will you tell this young woman about the life? She wants to be a model."

Miss B., with an easy, natural movement, threw the end of her garnet velvet toga across her shoulders and gave the visitor such a lengthy description of the trials, hardships and troubles of a model's life in the studios that when she advised the artistically inclined housemaid "to go back to making beds and scrubbing and waxing floors" the latter concluded she had better "bear the ills she knew than fly to those she knew not of" and took her departure as abruptly as she had come.—Philadelphia Press.

DRAWING UP WILLS.

Lawyers Do Not Want Their Names Identified With the Documents.

That it takes a smart man to draw a will is an adage the respect for which in the legal fraternity is evidenced by the fact that few lawyers want to furnish visible evidence of their part in drawing up wills. It is perfectly easy for a man to hire a lawyer to draft his testament, of course, no matter how complicated its provisions may be. It is quite another thing to get the lawyer to witness it. He will not even allow clerks in his office to do so except perhaps where the client is an old or regular one. He wants him to go elsewhere to get the necessary attestations. There are exceptions to this unwritten rule, it is true, but it is pretty generally observed.

"Lawyers will not so admit it," said one of them, "but the true reason is they don't care to be identified with the instrument. It is about as difficult an undertaking as a lawyer can face to draw up a will where the bequests are surrounded with conditions that will close up all loopholes to a contest. Most testators know how they want to dispose of their estates, but it is exceedingly hard to express their wishes in a way that will leave no doubt when subsequently disappointed heirs call it into question. The books teem with instances of the inability of smart men, some of them distinguished lawyers, to make a will that will stand under a stiff fight. Lawyers naturally don't want to be associated with a document that may be pronounced bad, and so they are unwilling to sign as witnesses or to let their employees do it. I suppose it to some extent argues a lack of confidence in their work. Anyhow the precaution is of little use, for invariably the lawyer who drew it is disclosed in any litigation over a will."—Chicago Tribune.

Temperance Mansion.

"I see you are building a new house, Mr. Bung."

"Yes, you are right."

"Made the money out of whisky, I suppose?"

"No."

"Why, you are a liquor dealer, are you not?"

"Oh, yes! But the money I'm putting into this house was made out of the water I put into the whisky. Every farthing was made out of the water, sir."—London Tit-Bits.

NICARAGUA CANAL

Society of Naval Architects Discusses the Scheme.

PROPOSED MEMORIAL TO CONGRESS

That Was Not Adopted Because Its Adoption Was Considered Inexpedient—Report from Chicago That a Deal Has Been Completed for Building the Canal Without Asking Congress for Anything, British Capitalists to Supply the Funds.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, which has been in session here, had a warm discussion over the Nicaragua canal. The question before the body was the proposition of presenting a memorial to congress from the society asking favorable action on the Nicaragua canal project under the auspices of an American company, and the proposition to present the memorial was defeated by a vote of 27 to 15. The report in favor of the proposition presented a memorial to congress suggesting "the question of aiding by suitable legislation befitting the magnitude of the great project of any properly organized American corporation engaged or to be engaged in the task of constructing a ship canal through the territory of the republic of Nicaragua."

Would Cement the East and West.

The memorial then went on to say that: "It seems to us to promise to the people of the United States the means of cementing in even closer union than now exists the seaboard states of the Atlantic and Pacific; of rendering one and indivisiable the ties that bind the extreme east to the extreme west, and of justifying one of the mottoes of this glorious Union, 'esto perpetua.' It further promises to insure closer ties of friendship between ourselves and the Central and South American republics, giving to this country that predominance in the affairs of the American continent which by right we should have, but which has been jealously contested hitherto by certain European powers."

Cummings Complains of the West.

The opposition to the memorial was based on the ground that it was inexpedient for the society to interest itself in legislation. The third annual banquet of the society was held last night in the banquet hall of the Hotel Brunswick. The first speaker introduced was Representative-elect Amos Cummings, who responded to the toast "The Navy." Cummings said that England spends in one year on her navy what we spend in six years. "If we attempt to do the same," he said, "we put on a long face and throw up both hands. But the people who do this and prevent our efforts to make a naval showing are our western brethren, who have never even seen the seacoast and are indifferent as to whether or not that seacoast and its cities be attacked by an enemy."

IS A DEAD ISSUE ANYHOW.

Canal Will Be Built with British Capital, Says the Chicago Post.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—The Evening Post assert that the Nicaragua canal is to be built; that New York and London capital will foot the bills, and American contractors do the work. It is also said that Chicago engineers and the drainage board contractors will have a leading part in the construction; that while the deal has not yet been completed negotiations are in a very advanced stage and almost on the verge of completion. All attempts to secure financial aid from this government will be abandoned and the matter prosecuted as a purely private enterprise.

The principal negotiations have been going on, it is stated, since the visit of Warner Miller to this city a few weeks ago. No names are given in connection with the plan. This has been brought about by investigation made by leading spirits in the Nicaragua scheme into the work being carried on in the shape of the thirty million dollar Chicago drainage canal. For months experts have been investigating this work, and it is said that as the result the moving spirits in this work have been invited to visit the Nicaragua leaders in New York.

The Post further asserts that for several months certain London financiers, in company with some New Yorkers, have been looking into the scheme, and have practically decided to back it. Between $70,000,000 and $85,000,000 will be needed, and that amount, says The Post, has been in effect guaranteed.

Haley & Drew,

15 First Street.

—Frank Rosbrook is home from a business trip.

—A new telephone station is being made at Prairieville.

—Telephone No. 130 has been placed in the C. H. Heeler home.

—J. E. Wellington, of New Orleans, is registered at the Nachusa House.

—E. H. Brewster in back from a visit in the southeastern portion of the county.

—Mrs. Dr. Hunt will attend the funeral of F. W. Parmelee at Polo tomorrow.

—Miss Jessie Loy received a telegram telling of the death of an uncle in Chicago.

—Mrs. J. R. Carpenter and daughter, Miss Nellie, are expected home from Colorado tomorrow.

—Mrs. William McMahan is up from Pawpaw visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Thompson.

—Mrs. J. H. Thompson yesterday entertained ladies at her home on Ottawa avenue with an interesting reading by Mrs. Elizabeth Henderson.

—By order of the Health Commissioner, no books from any house where there is diphtheria will be allowed in the schools rooms of the city. They must be burned.

—Miss Avis, the eleven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Conners of Hennepin avenue and Patrick court, has diphtheria. There are a number of children in this family.

—Fred W. Parmelee, nephew of Mr. Jacob Brubaker, died in Chicago of pneumonia and will be buried at Polo tomorrow afternoon. Mr. Brubaker and family left this afternoon to attend the funeral.

—Parties from abroad are here in negotiation with Mr. M. Jordan for his patent-right to Lee county in the patent-stone manufacture. If the sale is consummated they will become permanent citizens of Dixon.

—In order to pay expenses it is necessary that Prof. Clendenen has forty scholars at his dancing school, and as there were not that many present last night, he at first decided to give the matter up, but today he sends word that he will be here again next Thursday and Friday evenings and make another effort to organize a class.

—The new telephone pole placed at the corner near the City National Bank is receiving considerable notice because of its prominence in being placed in the middle of the walk on the First street line. Mr. Kilburn's explanation is that as the curbed corner is round he could not put it at the corner and be in line with the other poles on either First street or Galena avenue and he chose to line with the latter. It is claimed that as the Galena avenue sidewalk is three feet wider than that on First street the obstruction should have been placed in the Galena avenue walk.

The Dixon Hospital.

As previously stated, the city council at its last meeting passed an ordinance establishing a public hospital and providing for the appointment of a hospital board. The members of this board have been appointed and are as follows: Mrs. Mary A. Noble, Mrs. Andrew J. Brubaker, Mrs. Theron Cumins, Miss Lizzie Shaw, Mrs. C. G. Smith, Mrs. F. A. Watson, Miss Nellie McMartin, Miss Kittie Finley and Miss Anna Geisenheimer.

The selection is an excellent one; the ladies on the board being conspicuous for activity and intelligent sympathy. The appointment of a female board, while somewhat of an innovation, we consider an excellent idea. Hospital work is of a character to enlist the sympathetic nature of women, who will find or make time to plan and execute plans for the amelioration of suffering, and take pride in the very best conduct of such matters; and where a male hospital board has been appointed, it has been usually found necessary to have an auxiliary board of women, who have generally done the largest share of the work while their brothers have taken the honors. In this era of the world's progress, women are taking the lead in many lines of philanthropic and reformatory work, and they should have their full need of credit.

The location of the hospital is an excellent one, upon a high elevation, overlooking the beautiful river convenient to the business portion of the city, and where proper sanitary conditions can easily be secured. Through the magnanimity of Hon. S. H. Bethea, the title to the property—a two story building with basement and a large lot—will be vested in the board of directors. This donation should and doubtless will be supplemented by other philanthropic citizens with a fund sufficient to erect such additions and make such improvements as will be necessary to constitute it a neat and convenient hospital—one of the best to be found anywhere in a city of this size. The barn will be removed and it is thought best to erect a new building a little to the northeast of the present structure, constructed on approved sanitary principles, on the cottage plan, with all conveniences, for operating room, wards for male and female patients, private bed rooms, bath room, etc., to be connected by a covered walk with the present building, in which will be reception parlor, dining room, kitchen, and upstairs chambers for patients who are sufficiently convalescent to use them. How far this plan, which is as yet but embriotic, can be developed, depends on the general response which shall meet the proposed appeal of the board to the public. A city hospital is a want that has long been felt, and the full benefits of which will be more fully realized as its use be more fully known. When the plans are matured and laid before our people by authority of the board, we have no doubt but our people will respond most heartily and generously.

There Is Still a Chance.

We are informed that the subscription lists for the addition to the Henderson shoe factory plant, now at the offices of George C. Loveland, R. S. Farrand and E. H. Brewster, will be held open for names for an indefinite time. This change of plan is occasioned by an arrangement which has been made with the commissioners of the penitentiary at Jeffersonville, Mo., whereby the services of the hands employed there are retained for a period pending the renewal of a time contract. Thus those who desire to secure the promised new factory to Dixon will for a time have an opportunity to contribute to that result. All acknowledge that the acquisition of a new factory under a management we know to be substantial, would be of general advantage, while of course the greatest advantage would accrue to special lines. It is very evident that the Henderson Company is desirous of locating their factory here at this time, and if those who will receive the greatest benefit from its removal to Dixon will meet the advances that have been made within a short time, it can doubtless be secured.

The Revival in North Dixon.

The largest audience yet, was present last night at Grace church. After song service led by Prof. Herritage; the Bishop read a severe portion of God's word as recorded in Mark IX:40-50. The text was chosen from Matt. 6: 33 "But seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his righteouness and all these things shall be added unto you." A short impressive discourse was given in which the Evangelist emphasized the necesity of making every earthly, mortal, interest secondary to the great concern for the soul's best eternal interest. The bible study was held this afternoon with a good attendance. More are expected tomorrow afternoon. The Bishop is anxious to do good to as many people as possibe, and no christian should miss these bible studies. Tomorrow there will be Sunday school at 10 a. m.; preaching at 11. Afternoon services at 2:30 conducted by Evangelist Stanford. A Union meeting of all the Young People's Societies will be held at 5:45 p. m. Everybody most cordially invited to all these services.

Ambassador Bayard's Speech.

In a recent address before a British audience, our national policy of protection which has characterized our legislation during most of our existence as a nation and is the foundation of much of our prosperity, was by our Democratic ambassador characterized and classed with communism and anarchy. The Inter-Ocean this morning speaks of the matter as follows:

"Whenever a distinguished American of Democratic faith is invited to speak before a British audience he hastens to assure it that he and his political associates disapprove of the policy by which the United States have been made independent of British manufactures. To regret American progress and to pledge themselves to ceaseless efforts toward retarding its future force is the duty that every American Democrat imposes upon himself when speaking to Britons.

"The last flagrant example of the American flunky abroad is Thomas F. Bayard, Mr. Cleveland's selection for ambassador to St. James. The people to whom he spoke became a great—for centuries the greatest—manufacturing power by a policy of rigid protection. They abjured protection only when by its magnificent force the manufacturing population had been increased to a number that the small agriculture of the British Isles could not feed. If Britain had had a farming area equal to that of the United States it is more than probable that the British policy of today would be that of protection.

"The fox that cut off its tail because it 'had to' was eloquent in descanting to other foxes upon the sanitary and esthetic advantages of a bob-tail. He made few converts. So Great Britain, which adopted free trade because it 'had to,' makes converts only of tuft-hunting Americans. The American people, like those of Russia, France and Germany, go on their way of protection and scale ever higher heights of prosperity.

"It required what the Americans well call 'nerve' for Mr. Bayard to declare that 'protection is not a national policy, but a class policy, in America' at the very time the newsboys were crying in the streets of London and Edinburgh the huge victory of the protectionists in nearly every American state in which an election had been held. When Kentucky and Maryland break loose from the free trade party, when Alabama is confessedly held in it by fraud, when Louisiana is deterred from an avowal of Republican faith only by the hobgoblin of negro supremacy, it is superlatively ridiculous to talk of protection as 'a sectional policy.'

"What can't be cured must be endured, and as it is impossible to cure distinguished Democrats of their Anglomania the vagaries of Ambassador Bayard must be endured until he is succeeded by a Republican."

The "Tramps of New York."

This season's biggest farce comedy sensation, is the attraction at the Dixon Opera House Monday, Nov. 11th. It comes with banners flying, heralded as the most pretentious farce-comedy company ever seen on tour, with a costume and scenic investituce complete in every detail. The comedy is in three acts; the first being comedy situations and crisp with witty dialogue. In this act there are a number of pleasing specialties introduced. The second act is almost entire specialties and burlesque. The third act is again given over to farcical play, and unraveling of the plot.

"Tramps of New York" was constructed to give two and one-half hours of pure and wholesome merriment and to say that the desired effect has been produced is drawing it mildly. The company includes, beside thea well-known comedian, Jerry Hart; Fred DeNos, George Crawford, J. W. Smith, Slackey & Dell, Misses Bobby Burns, Jennie Wylie, Minnie Lee and others together with our Challenge Brass Band and Orchestra.

—Nations bordering upon the sea have jurisdiction over it for a distance of three miles from shore. The Association for the Reform and Codification of Law of Nations, which has just had a session at Brussells, has voted to recommend the extension of the limit to six miles. The recommendation is the outgrowth of, and therefore calls attention to, the improvement of guns in the recent years. For the purpose of protecting its shores a nation was originally given jurisdiction as far as its batteries could effectively reach. At the time the limit was established the range of guns was three miles. The range has doubled since then, but the limit has remained at the old distance. The recommendation of six miles could be adopted by the mutual consent of nations and it will not be surprising if that is done.

I call the attention of those interested in the mechanical branch of my business to the UNEQUALED QUALITY OF ALUMINUM PLATES I MANUFACTURE. The success I have had with them enables me to GUARANTEE THEM INDEFINITELY AGAINST Breakage and Mishap, common to the rubber plates. The metal is a perfect conductor of temperatures, produces a cooling wholesome sensation to the palate, and absorption of the tissues of the mouth cannot take place when this metal is worn. In the last three years I have manufactured over three hundred of these plates, and not one that has been delivered, and paid for, has been returned with complaint. I have no competition in the production of this class of work, as the combining of the metals used in making the dies, over which the plates are formed, the casting of the dies and their preparation for swedging, the adapting of the plates to the mouth after they are swedged, and the final whitening of the metal (which makes it permanently white) are original methods which I shall protect as long as they are of value to me.
